Session 2: Communication and Interpersonal Skills In the second session, Dr. Ghanshyam Kamble explored the importance of effective communication and interpersonal skills. He provided practical tips on how to improve verbal and non-verbal communication, active listening, and relationship-building skills. Dr. Kamble also conducted interactive activities to help participants practice these skills in real-life scenarios.

Interactive Sessions and Discussions: The workshop featured interactive sessions where participants engaged in group discussions, sharing their experiences and challenges related to personality development. This collaborative environment fostered a deeper understanding of the subject and encouraged networking among attendees.

Expert Lectures: Dr. Ghanshyam Kamble delivered insightful lectures on various aspects of personality development, including emotional intelligence, leadership, and stress management. His lectures were well-received and provided participants with valuable tips and resources to aid their personal and professional growth.

Hands-on Activities: Participants took part in hands-on activities designed to apply the concepts learned during the sessions. These activities included role-playing, group exercises, and self-assessment tests, enhancing the practical skills of the attendees.

Conclusion: The One-Day Workshop on Personality Development was a resounding success, with 42 participants actively participating in the sessions. The workshop provided a platform for knowledge exchange and skill development, significantly enhancing the personal and professional capabilities of the attendees.

The Department of English extends its gratitude to Dr. Ghanshyam Kamble, Dr. Nitin Shinde, the conveners, and all participants for their contributions to the success of this workshop. We look forward to organizing more such events in the future to continue fostering personal growth and professional development.
